Art Unit: 1723

The amendment filed March 17, 2004 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: Recitation of "in particular, only obliquely" in the Amendment to paragraph 33 of the Specification constitutes "New Matter", since Figure 1 is insufficient to support such concept, as such figures substantially are schematics and do not prove lack of other than oblique flow. Other portions of the Specification, for instance page 14, paragraph 0037, suggest that a plurality of relationships of channel terminal portions to apertures may optionally exist in embodiments.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Art Unit: 1723

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 1-8 now are written to require channels which only terminate obliquely into an aperture; however, the Specification, in particular instant Figure 1 and page 13 drawn to the claimed feature, as originally drafted did not require a strictly oblique flow of fluid into the aperture.

Art Unit: 1723

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vanden Bussche et al patent 6,655,829.

Vanden Bussche et al disclose operation of a microfluidic mixer (columns 2, lines 18-20, etc.), providing of a plurality of channels (10,10',12 see particularly figure 3) that terminate radially and obliquely into aperture (14,14') to effect a swirling mixing within the aperture or mixing chamber (column 2, lines 15-64), or plurality of channels that terminate only obliquely into the aperture/mixing chamber (see channels 10' and 16 in figure 3 or alternate channels shown in figure 1). At column 7, lines 15-17 and 59-64, the mixing action within the aperture/mixing chamber is particularly described as forming a tangential, spiraling and vortex formation within the chamber.

Regarding claims 2 and 6, see centered outlet port 19' in figure 3 and description of cover plate or layer in column 10, lines 49-54, etc.

Regarding claims 3 and 7, materials of construction are disclosed at column 10, lines 61-65 and column 12, lines 46-48.

Art Unit: 1723

Regarding claims 4 and 8, varied shapes of aperture and mixing chamber are discussed at column 7, lines 18-20 and elsewhere.

Applicant's arguments filed on March 17, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is argued that Vanden Bussche et al teach radially terminating as well as obliquely terminating channels. However, the claims are drafted so as to permit other channel terminations so long as at least two channels terminate obliquely.

Art Unit: 1723

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
